

Dr. Allbright knows first-hand the pain of being bruised by circumstances, by people, and by his own wrong choices. More importantly he has experienced the joy of being liberated by God's grace and power through the application of the same biblical principles he teaches in his seminars.

His childhood was characterized by poverty, rejection, turmoil, insecurity, anger,, bitterness, fear, hatred, grief, and disappointment as he experienced the death of his sharecropper father, the rejection of his mother who gave him away, the death of his foster father and the lack of attention from his foster mother who worked as a live-in nurse. Adult responsibilities were prematurely thrust upon him when at age 15 he dropped out of school to get a job to support himself and his critically-ill foster mother.

Thus began an 18-year futile quest for happiness through financial success, alcoholism, and fleeing the call of God. At the age of 33, with the support of his faithful and godly wife, Rita, Dr. Allbright turned his life over to the Lord.

His own struggle to overcome the hurts of his past led him through the healing process from God's Word that he has shared with countless counselees in his years of one-on-one ministry. His own complete liberation from bondage as well as the testimonies of the hundreds of hurting-to-healed individuals he has helped can attest to the authority of his teachings.
